It would be interesting to know what the Regiment baseball team are paying for banana trees today.

Miss Heitman, an experienced trimmer from Chicago, takes Miss Haake's place in Sachs' Millinery Department.

The regimental drill heretofore announced for Friday evening will be held on Thursday evening instead. This is official.

A mail will go by the Philadelphia sailing early tomorrow morning, to close at the postoffice at 4 o'clock this evening.

Miss Zella E. Leighton, a pupil of Shakespeare, London, and Pasta of Milan, has opened a studio for voice culture at 108 Emma street.

The Medical Society of Hawaii held a meeting on Saturday evening and passed a resolution of condolence over the death of Dr. J. K. Smith.

If you are looking for anything odd and stylish in dress materials, N. S. Sachs has just the thing, besides a fine line of new laces to go with them.

J. M. Webb of the Golden Rule Bazaar calls attention to a line of Hawaiian souvenir pins and cuff buttons, together with other articles in the stationery line.

If Poundmaster Kekuene would take an occasional trip along the Waikiki road of an evening or early in the morning he might gather in a lot of loose horses.

The quarterly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held this evening at their hall. The usual program, followed by refreshments, will be carried out.

If you have a tire that is badly out take it to the Pacific Cycle & Manufacturing Co., Ehlers building. They have a vulcanizer and make your tire as good as new at a nominal cost.

Special police officer Helen Wilder would have done her duty yesterday afternoon had she arrested herself and those with whom she was racing on the Waikiki road.

Hasingawa Kutano and Nijoro Nomura, two Japanese, got three months in jail each at the hands of Judge Wilcox for attempting to defraud the Government by juggling with tax receipts.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Board of Missions will take place at 2:30 tomorrow in Central Union church. Missionaries from Japan will address the meeting, and interesting letters will be read.

ENGRAVED DIAMONDS.

How to Obtain Satisfactory Results—Some Notable Samples.

It was long believed that the diamond could not be engraved with safety or satisfactory results, but a contemporary says that a few stones roughly engraved were found in India and a diamond was exhibited at the Paris exposition of 1878 on which a portrait of the king of Holland was scratched. But the work was very imperfect. Some of the finest examples of engraving on diamonds are the work of a Paris jeweler. One is a certain scarfpin, representing a yataghan, of which the blade is a slender diamond and the handle is a ruby. Another is a large circular stone on which a pansy, with its foliage, is engraved, and in a third case the design is a knife made with two diamonds. An elaborate piece of work is a bicycle, of which the wheels are two circular diamonds. The spokes are represented by lines engraved on the diamonds. A small hole is pierced at each angle. Another diamond is carved like a fish. A handsome brooch is a scarabeus surrounded by sapphires and brilliants. The most remarkable is a ring made of one diamond, the interior surface being polished and the exterior elaborately engraved. It is said that there is nothing similar to this in existence. Other examples are brooches representing flies of which the wings are thin, engraved diamonds, two diamonds engraved with armorial bearings, the imperial arms of Russia, being used in one instance on shirt and cuff buttons. Formerly it was only possible to produce the polish on flat surfaces, but M. Bodinet has been able to do this on concave portions, as on the body and tail of the fish and the interior of the ring. His tools produce not only straight lines, as in the wheels, the racket and the flies' wings, but a free modeling, as in the pansy, the Russian arms and the scarabeus. He has invented these tools himself and intends that his son alone shall have the use of them. They are exceedingly delicate and difficult to handle. He has spent 25 years bringing them to perfection.

RAILWAY TO THE YUKON.

It Will Open Up a Valuable Territory.

A party of engineers under Edward Wilkinson has left Victoria to make a survey of the nearest route to the Yukon. It is proposed to run a line of road from the head of Douglass channel, on the northern coast of British Columbia, to Hazelton, the head of navigation on the Skeena river, and from there to Teslin lake.

With the exception of a portion of the route between the coast and Hazelton, the line will run through a flat country. It is expected that D. Mann, a railway contractor of Montreal, is interested in a scheme of building a railway by this route. It will open up a large area of mining and quartz lands in British Columbia.

Will Raise Cane.

At a meeting held at Ewa on Saturday, the Pearl City Fruit Co. decided to plant five acres in sugar cane forthwith. The pineapple crops have hitherto been unprofitable, in spite of a very fine quality of fruit. When the cane matures it will be ground at either the Ewa or the Oahu mill.

Mothers Speak Highly

OF CUMMIN'S TASTELESS CASTOR OIL for use where a cathartic or laxative is required. When a preparation has merit it soon becomes popular and such has proved the case with CUMMIN'S TASTELESS CASTOR OIL. The demand is daily increasing and everyone who uses it speaks well of its action.

CUMMIN'S

It is free from narcotics and will not affect the stomach and produce nausea. Children will take it joyfully. The taste resembles honey and the dose is just the same as ordinary Castor Oil. It is not a patent medicine in any sense, it being simply a fine quality of Castor Oil rendered tasteless by the addition of flavoring agents.

HAS NO

It will take the place of Castoria and many other preparations which are injurious to a greater or less degree by constant use. The price is 25 cents a bottle. Don't be deceived and induced to take any other preparation of a similar nature. Ask for CUMMIN'S TASTELESS CASTOR OIL and insist upon getting it.

EQUAL.

It never fails to produce a good effect and will prove a most valuable acquisition to your household remedies. Once used, always used.
